LIONS SHOULD CONTINUE TO OPERATE POOL, IS OPINION

At a meeting held in the Legion Hall Tuesday evening to consider the best plans for operating the swimming pool in the future, now that it is completely paid for, the general opinion expressed by those present was that the actual operation of the pool should remain with the Lions Club, with the town and other organizations giving financial support whenever necessary.

Delegates at the meeting represented the Lions Club, Elks Lodge, I. O. O. F., Town Council, Women's Institute, Canadian Legion and Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion.

Although a deficit was incurred this past season in the operation of the pool, this was due partly to some unusual expenses incurred and partly to cool, wet weather prevailing during most of the summer. It was felt that little or no deficit would be incurred in a normal season. The Lions swimming pool committee has been doing an excellent job in managing the pool and if the proposal meets with the approval of the Lions Club as a whole the operation of the pool will remain in the hands of a Lions Club committee.

Pretty Wedding at Church of Christ

REITAN-LOXTON

A vine-trimmed arch and bouquets of giant yellow chrysanthemums formed the setting in the Church of Christ, Vulcan, for an afternoon wedding, Friday, Oct. 24th, when Viola Louise Loxton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Loxton, Vulcan, became the bride of Kenneth Reitan, youngest son of Mrs. Anna Reitan of Hardisty. Rev. E. G. Hansell, M. P. was the officiating clergyman.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gowning in a floor-length model of white rayon sheer, featuring long sleeves and full skirt, with an embroidered yolk and matching embroidery banding the waistline. Her veil fell to finger length from a beaded coronet, and she carried a bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums.

In delicate contrast to the bride's ensemble was the formal gown of shell pink sheer worn by Miss Connie Hoskyn, who was the bridesmaid. A flowered coronet held her matching chapel veil, and she carried a bouquet of co-co-mo carnations.

Mr. Adolph Bussel attended the groom, while Mr. Jack Williams and Mr. Leslie Jones ushered the guests to pews marked by white ribbon bows.

Miss Norma McEwen played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register Miss Mary Spaeth sang "Because."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the I. O. O. F. hall attended by 35 guests. The bride's party was assisted in receiving by the bride's mother, who was attired in a blue crepe frock, worn with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, and flanked by light tapers. Those assisting in serving were Misses Linda Fleming, Effie Van Dellen, Jessie Van Dellen and Mrs. Tom Boger.

Following the reception the bride couple left on a wedding trip to Banff, Jasper and Hardisty. For travelling the bride chose a fuchsia suit, featuring a long peplum skirt, and accessories in black. On her coat she wore an aqua-marine chataleine, a gift of the groom.

On their return the young couple will make their home in Calgary.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. Adolph Russell, Loughheed; Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Johnston and sons, Cranbrook, B.C.; Miss Norma McEwen, Bowden; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Spaeth and Mary; Mr. Leslie Jones and Mrs. Vaughn; Calgary; Miss Ruth Alice Deans of Strathmore; Mrs. Boyd, Miss Isobel Williams, Mr. Richard Williams, Miss Eileen Ruark, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams and Jack Williams, Ensign.

Grand-daddy of Them All

The grand-daddy of them all, a huge turnip weighing 20 lbs., was brought in by Bruce Roe Saturday night.

With leaves and all, the turnip weighed 24 lbs., and it is not likely that Mr. Roe will have any competitors for turnip growing honors. Mr. Roe reports that many other turnips in his garden weighed from 10 to 15 lbs. Seed for these monsters was secured last year from Prince Edward Island.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted

What might have been another serious accident was narrowly averted recently when the tractor Dan Jantzie was operating stalled after his parka had caught in the power takeoff shaft of the swather.

Mr. Jantzie was alone at the time, but fortunately he was near the tool box and managed to get a wrench with his free hand and turn the machine backwards until he was free.

Except for a bruised arm and chest he suffered no serious injury.

Lengthy Harvest Nearly Finished

The long-awaited Indian summer is allowing farmers to clean up unfinished harvesting. Bright, warm days, with generally a good breeze, has dried the grain sufficiently for combines to operate again.

Overcast skies and a very light fall of snow, barely enough to wet the ground, threatened to hold up work on Wednesday, but skies cleared again in the afternoon.

There is still quite a bit of flax to be harvested in this district but if the weather holds harvesting should be cleaned up by the weekend.

WELFARE IN ALBERTA

FOLLOWING a strong criticism of welfare operation and administration made by Dr. Charlotte Whitton, a well chosen commission has been appointed to study the field of welfare in all its phases. It is probable that the more outstanding weaknesses of this department may be analyzed by this commission with remedial suggestions made.

In the meantime a study of Welfare in Alberta has been made by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, and has provided a tremendous volume of information. It traces the history of public welfare in Alberta from 1905 onward, with the province gradually assuming greater authority. Drought and depression following the first great war served to mark a more positive entrance into the welfare field, and it was in 1936 that the Bureau of Public Welfare came into being.

Included in the study are provisions made for aged persons, and blind or infirm persons; child protection and child welfare; delinquency services; provincial-municipal responsibility and financing and other phases of administration under the general heading of welfare.

In this voluminous publication it is pointed out that the study has been planned and carried out with purpose, not of finding who is wrong, so much as finding what is wrong and how to right it. There is a foreword by Daisy Marshall, provincial president of the I.O.D.E., pointing out that in 1943 the Chapter resolved to undertake a survey of the province because a survey had to be made in order that conditions of child and family welfare work might be improved. Another foreword is by Dr. Charlotte Whitton, whose assistance was invaluable in compiling information.

It is explained that the findings have been arrived at from municipal and voluntary welfare services; the clergy and general citizen organizations and scores of other responsible sources. The story of aged persons, care of unfortunate or unprotected children, care of necessitous mothers and so on, makes at times depressing reading, but much might be corrected by a general revision of existing provisions.

The book goes largely into statistics bearing upon actual numbers requiring oversight or provincial protection in some form, and in every branch of service reviewed it makes certain recommendations. In respect to child welfare service for example, the report recommends amongst other things the decentralization of provincial child care into smaller units of administration; creation of small units of shelter care; immediate review of the whole system of placing children in commercialized boarding home care with a view to supervised family homes; re-organization also of foster placement of older children in "work" homes; re-organization of the present "casual" system of placing babies for adoption, and particularly control of babies for export to other provinces and United States.

Not everyone will agree with all the recommendations contained in this report. But both findings and recommendations serve as a challenge to an interested public, and a basis for thought. They may also play their part in leading toward reforms which are apparently well over due.

News From CHAMPION

Marshman — Lebsack

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Evangelical Church, Champion in the early afternoon of Friday, October 10, when Viola Evelyn Lebsack, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lebsack, of Champion, pledged nuptial vows with Harold Wheeler (Jack) Marshman, second son of Mr. Edward Marshman and the late Mrs. Marshman.

Rev. F. E. Vorrath officiated at the ceremony which took place before an altar banked with standards of gladioli and garden flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the youthful bride was gownned in a floor length model of white slipper satin, styled with long torso bodice, lily point sleeves and featuring a net yoke outlined with leaf spray applique which was repeated on the bouffant skirt. Her full length veil of embroidered illusion net, cascaded from a head-dress of white satin roses. She wore the groom's gift, a strand of pearls, and carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby mums.

Mrs. E. Repp, of Calgary, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gownned in a model of mist blue sheer, featuring full bishop sleeves. Her floral head dress and bouquet were of pastel pink carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss E. Klein, of Viking, and Miss Ruth Marshman, cousin and sister of the bride groom respectively, were attired in shell pink floor length gowns, with long full sleeves and low neck line with pleated frilling. They completed their ensembles with floral coronets of white baby mums and carried colonial bouquets of roses and forget-me-nots.

Robert Marshman was his brother's groomsman and the guests were ushered by E. Repp, of Calgary and Howard Marshman.

Mrs. Ernest Rhodes Jr. was pianist and Miss Elaine Granlin sang "Bless This House," during the signing of the register.

Following the service a reception was held at Harmony School. Vases of gladioli were arranged throughout the reception room.

The bridal couple were assisted in receiving the one hundred guests by the bride's mother, who chose for her daughter's wedding, a black crepe afternoon frock with aqua trim, large black hat and accessories. A corsage of red roses completed her attire.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by vases of roses and carnations and lighted tapers.

Mr. Elwood Granlin proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshman left later, by motor, for Calgary, where the honeymoon was spent. The bride changed to a navy, with pin stripe, tailored suit, sheer white blouse, black hat and accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshman have taken up residence at Champion.

Pertinent Topics

Discussed by H.C.

One of the Japanese war criminals deposed that whatever the war lords did to bring on war was with the knowledge and consent of Emperor Hirohito. This we can well believe, and it was borne out by the attitude of the other war criminals at trial who turned their backs on the witness in an attitude of disavowal and ostracism. Even the crushing defeat he sustained has not lessened their devotion to the Sun Emperor. It is inconceivable that Hirohito could not have overridden the military caste had he so desired.

It was because he had and has such prestige and influence, with his people that he was placed in his present position. Instead of heading the list of criminals to be tried for major war offences. The American government, with the eyes of St. Paul, saw merit in expediency and placed him where he could be used to hasten settlement and stability. That it was a sagacious stroke of strategy is shown by the results.

If there was one such man of light and leading left in Germany the British and American generals in command there now would have an easier task, though they would not be so successful as General MacArthur who in Japan is unhampered by the meddlesome and tortuous tactics which Soviet diplomats and generals employ against the other occupying powers in Germany.

Well, the meat strike is settled at last and the people who pay the piper pay little attention to how the deed was done. It was an illegal strike on the part of C.I.O. unions but, except in Quebec, no action was taken by any government to follow up on that basis. Farmers and stock breeders were made to undergo anxiety and bear loss because a by-election was coming up in York-Sunbury, N.B. That over, happily for the government, the strike was settled. The strikers won—not all they struck for but at least all they expected. The packers won also because the government lifted the ceilings and they can now pay the increased wages without a dent in profits.

The only losers were the farmers and consumers who carry little weight politically because they are not organized for that purpose and have put up with hold-ups of this sort in the past without any comeback. Another swat is coming their way again because of the threatened strike of railwaymen now demanding vacations with pay. Farmers do not give their own hired men vacations with pay but as shippers they will have to bear their share of the expenses if these concessions are granted. They raised no objection to this or any other pay increases to railwaymen but they did object when the companies asked for resultant increases in freight rates and they got several provincial governments to back them up.

There is some doubt as to whether it would be wise to declare Communism an illegal organization. Too many liberals would oppose it as a repressive and tyrannical breach of free speech, free assembly and free organization for political action. The noisiest objectors would, of course, be Communists who, having gained power to do so, would make it one hundred per cent effective over all but themselves. In the meantime, they abuse this liberty until it becomes license and use their legal organization to organize illegal acts, to foment strife, to incite to violence and discord, to inculcate sedition and treason among cell-mates.

The argument against repressive action is that it would drive the actors underground. Well, the argument against that argument is that that's where they ought to be. When the organization was first declared illegal, some leaders were arrested some skipped the country, some went into hiding. Who shall say they were not less vicious and dangerous, when so dispersed? In Canada (as in other countries) they were released when Hitler attacked Russia and it must be admitted that after that they did good work. Their loyalty to Russia made them loyal temporarily to Canada. The war over, their loyalty to Canada disappeared; their loyalty to Russia glows with increased intensity.

Sentiment in favor of free speech, etc., was so strong until recently that there would not have been sufficient support behind a measure of restriction to make it enforceable but the conduct of Soviet agents has altered that situation. As to those "liberals" who would still resent and resist restrictive measure there is this to be said: The state is obligated to protect them just as it protects citizens from being buncoed by card sharps or confidence men. Such protection might be the means of saving them later on from arrest and prosecution, perhaps also from penal servitude or even the gallows.

Most of them are worth saving for, outside of a queer kink in their mental make-up which leads them to think they know more than others (although their political education comes mainly from abroad), yet there is an innocence or ignorance about them that appeals to the protective instincts of the less educated masses. That queer kink makes them believe that old-fashioned notions of national honor and patriotism are outmoded and that the true patriot is that broad-minded man who loves some other country better than his own.

Sam Wood of Hollywood, one of the suspects of "un-American" propaganda, a prominent movie director, makes $100,000 a year. This does not sound like a true Communist.

At the Canadian Association Tourist-Travel, meeting in Charlestown, L. He didn't believe that hotels couldn't get good cooks when their rates were jumping all the time.

"Peace River Jim" has advised that the raging Doukhobours of B.C. be moved north. They would have no temptation up there to run round in the nude. The cold in winter and the flies in summer would ensure their being clothed.

SHOWER HONORS MISS BEAUBIER

Mesdames D. Greenlee, R. Davies, F. Racher and A. Bjornson were hostesses Saturday afternoon, October 25, when they entertained in the Community hall at a miscellaneous bridal shower in honor of Miss Lucille Beaubier, whose marriage to John Kressman, of Calgary, is a coming event of next week. The hall was beautifully decorated with vases of red and white carnations, bow-topped baskets of garden flowers and pale pink tapers in crystal candelabra. Pink and white streamers with clusters of silver bells were arranged to form a bower under which the bride's chair was placed, backed by a pink and white screen. The bride's book was signed by 77 guests present. Community singing and a quartette, with Mrs. A. L. Siler as pianist, was enjoyed and a mock wedding, very amusing, with Miss C. Rose as the bride, Audrey Harris the groom, train bearer, Elaine Groves, and the role of the father by Yvonne Long, with a choir in attendance.

Misses Enid Davies and Yvonne Long brought in a large decorated basket filled with daintily wrapped parcels.

Mrs. A. Bjornson pinned a gardenia corsage on the shoulder of the guest of honor then made the presentation of numerous lovely gifts, on behalf of her friends present, expressing the wish of all for her future happiness. Miss Beaubier replied with words of appreciation and an invitation to visit her when in Calgary.

Mrs. Harvey Beaubier, mother of the bride-elect, and Miss Audrey Racher, former schoolmate, assisted in unwrapping the gifts. A tasty lunch followed, served by the hostesses, assisted by a group of teenagers who wore heart-shaped aprons and head-dresses.

WOOD—HUBBARD

Grace Presbyterian Church was the setting for the early evening wedding, Saturday, October 18 of Dorothy Marguerite Hubbard, of Champion, and James Robert Wood, of Calgary. Rev. F. S. Morley read the marriage lines for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hubbard and the son of Mrs. L. Wood and the late Mr. Wood before an altar banked with pastel toned gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a plum gaberdine dressmaker suit, an off-the-face model hat and accessories in winter white. She carried a nosegay bouquet of roses and baby mums to complete her ensemble.

Miss Vivian Hubbard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and chose a shell grey tailored hat and accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Gutteridge of Calgary, wore an autumn brown suit. Her hat and accessories were in a lighter shade of brown and her corsage was of bronze mums. R. M. Rogers of Calgary, was the groomsmen.

The home of the brides grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Johanson, 139-31 Ave. N.W., was the setting for a reception following the service. Receiving with the bridal couple, the bride's mother wore an afternoon frock of mist grey crepe with gold sequin trim, her hat and accessories in contrasting brown. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses and stephanotis, while the mother of the groom chose a floral silk jersey frock with grey hat and accessories, completed with an orchid corsage.

Tall lighted tapers, roses and bouvardia in silver holders, flanked the three tiered wedding cake which centered the bride's table. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Rogers and responded to by the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood left later by motor for a brief honeymoon at Edmonton. The bride donned a gold colored coat with fur trim, over her wedding suit for travelling. They will take up residence at 1228-14 Ave. W., Calgary.

Crawford-Frost Hereford Sale

Over 1000 People Attend Sale of 77 Purebred Herefords. High Animal is 2-year-old Heifer Bringing $1900.

(From High River Times)

Outstanding prices prevailed at the auction sale of purebred Herefords held on October 7 at the 25 ranch of W. A. Crawford-Frost. Despite chilling drizzly weather the crowd in attendance numbered about 1000 and there was spirited bidding on the 77 registered Herefords auctioned by J. Allen Baker and Warren Cooper.

The sale totalled $42,320 which is said to be a record on private auctions of this nature. The animals included cows, heifers, bulls and calves and the sale continued for four hours.

The sale was not only an outstanding business success. It was also a social occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Crawford-Frost providing a barbecued meal which went a long way in offsetting the chill of the day. Buyers and visitors alike were made welcome to the abundance of food which offered everything from prime roast beef to salads, pies, cakes and coffee.

In opening the sale Mr. Crawford-Frost announced that he felt it necessary to reduce the size of his herd.

The top animal of the day was the 2-year-old heifer Camille which was bought by L. L. Atkinson of Claresholm for $1900. Next in price was a yearling bull bought by W. Scott of Nanton for $1675. P. Driggs of Ensign paid $1300 for a yearling bull; Jim Cole of Drumheller paid $1125 for a yearling heifer. E. Hehr of Midnapore paid $1025 for a bull calf.

The top animal of the sale "Camille" was sired by Pine Coulee Real Domino.

For the past three years bulls from the Crawford-Frost herds have topped the Calgary bull sales and animals from the same breeder have set new high prices. This was one great drawing card in the attendance which brought together cattlemen from all parts of Alberta. But the crowd was not confined to Hereford breeders. Livestock men interested in fine quality whether cattle, hogs or sheep, were represented in great numbers. The 25 ranch where the sale was held is one of the first established ranches in the province, and was bought by Mr. Crawford-Frost about three years ago. It adjoins his home ranch.

Items From Bob Edwards' Inimitable "Eye Opener"

In the High River Eye Opener of August 15, 1903, Bob Edwards is not so amiable. He waves his snicker-snee at old timers who make pessimistic weather forecasts, and he thinks government commissions inquiring into conditions already well-known, are utterly futile waste. He moralizes on the ethical standards of real estate sharks, but is generous enough to admit that a man might possibly be honest and still successful. Finally he takes umbrage with a preacher who has described the west as a godless people. He contends that money is the high god of the west, east, north, south, worshipped openly and without ceasing.

August 15, 1903

Enjoy the good things of life but don't be one of them.

The following local item is going to make Okotoks mad with envy—Baron de Premix of France, and Edward Papillard, also of Lyons, France, have arrived in High River and are looking for investments.

Laurier's resentment against England's paternal tactics toward Canada, and his declaration Canada is capable of managing her own affairs gives exact expression to the situation in the North West Territories in their subservient position to the Dominion government.

Pessimistic Pioneers

The weather which has been to nobody's liking is bucking up a bit. There is a great opening for a weather prophet in High River. He could make quite a stake laying odds against the gloomy prognostications of old timers. These worthies are trying their resistance, trying to frighten off newcomers with the dry weather scare. There used to be a fine line of pessimists in the weather line round Wetaskiwin a few years ago. They succeeded in frightening half the settlers out of the country. They're doing the same thing at High River. If one were to believe half the things he is told here by the bearded oldsters he would take the next train back east.

No Incumbent

There seems to be some hitch in the Episcopalian services down here. Bishop Pinkham promised to have an incumbent sent down. No incumbent. Rev. Freemantle-Webb officiates off and on, but you couldn't hire him to live here. No wonder. What in thunder would he do with himself during the week? Listen to silly chatter, just like the rest of us.

Futile Commissions

The people of Canada are long-suffering, but some day they will rise to protest commissions. A new fangled commission was appointed to look into the Chinese question in British Columbia. This little pleasure trip cost $39,203. There were four needy Liberals on the commission, but their expense accounts don't agree. Mr. Clute's board bill was only $549, but Mr. Deane ate at the rate of $1,066. And when it came to washing, Mr. Deane was much cleaner than his colleagues. His laundry account was $17.29. Mr. Foley on the other hand, had eight and one half month's washing done for $1.50. And apparently Mr. Clute never changed his shirt at all. But speaking seriously, B.C. members have been informing parliament about the Chinese situation for years. What mortal need was there for a commission?

Real Estate Sharks

How about the consciences of real estate subdivision sharks? They haven't any. Yet we should beware of falling into too squeamish scrupulosity. It isn't possible to be too honest, but it is possible to fall into a morbidly sensitive state about the things we do, or the things others do. If we are constantly afraid that some injury to others may come through our agency, then our best resort is a monastery or a homestead where no harm can be done.

There are certain moralists who insinuate that no business man who succeeds can be absolutely honest. This is the bunk. But it is true that the only point which business men care about is failure or success. If they have succeeded, then the criticism of others doesn't worry them. They have the dough. The man with the dough can tell them all to go to blazes.

A Godless People?

The Premier has been taking a fall out of a Methodist minister who, in a sermon, stated that the people of the west were godless people. We think the minister is ill-informed. Western people have a god. Money is the god of nine out of every ten men in the west, and in the east, and in the north and in the south. That being the case we are not godly. Money is the only god that we have seen honestly, devoutly and openly recognized and worshipped in these parts. We resent being called a godless bunch.

All Quotas Off Wheat

The Canadian Wheat Board has removed all existing delivery quotas on wheat in the three Western provinces. The new plan is effective until the end of the crop year, July 31, 1948.

Officials said that farmers in the south who had completed their crop operations would now be in a position to market wheat over and above the quotas which had been in effect in some parts of the province.

Although the grain car situation has been tight, especially in the south, no great difficulty is expected in handling the increased flow from country elevators to terminal points.

The box car situation is expected to ease up at any time now, and with no guarantee from the weather that the present fine weather will continue until the crop is harvested, officials of the board believe that they are justified in throwing deliveries wide open.

Dropping the Pilot

(From Lethbridge Herald)

The ouster of John L. Lewis along with 12 other vice-presidents of the American Federation of Labor is big news on the labor front. It's a case of dropping the pilot. Just what it portends is for the future to decide, but it may be that the American Federation of Labor has decided that the time has come when radical labor leadership must give way to a greater spirit of co-operation between workers, employers and the consuming public if chaos is not to come out of the inflationary wage-price spiral in the United States.

John L. Lewis has been a dominating figure in U.S. labor circles for so long that their mere dropping of the United Mine Workers president from the vice-presidency of the A.F. of L. is not going to remove him from the front rank of U.S. labor leaders. He still controls some 600,000 miners whom he once took from the A.F. of L. to form the nucleus of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, only to bring them back to the original fold when he quarrelled with the C.I.O. But the fact that the A.F. of L. convention has taken action which may be regarded as a leaning away from the more brutal tactics which have characterized some of Mr. Lewis' actions in the past may have a tempering effect. Nothing is surer than that, if the wage-price scale is not allowed to level out and find some common ground which takes regard of the right of the consumer, a period of chaos will develop which will be regretted everywhere on this continent. Only a far approach to the problem on both sides will keep the North American economic system in order and give the lie to the Russia predictions that the capitalistic system which has made this con-

Good returns were recorded at the early season community cattle auction sales held at various points in Southern Alberta, although at a number of late September sales the prices were adversely affected by continuance of the packhouse workers' strike, since buyers for the closed plants were not in attendance.

At Cardston, cattle from the Blood Indian Reserve were sold, 611 head bringing a total of $76,232, tops of the sale being steers, $15; heifers, $13.75; cows $13.35; and bulls, $8.50.

At the Pincher Creek sale the following day, 443 head from the Peigan Reserve brought $56,433, with a top of $14.60 for steers $13.60 for cows.

Annual Alberta Division C.W.N.A. Convention

Honorary Life Membership to Charles Clark, Sr., Sam Hodson of Okotoks and A. L. Horton of Vegreville.

(From Printer Publisher)

The weekly newspapers are performing a major service to their communities, Alberta editors were told by W. E. McCartney of Brampton, managing-director of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, at the annual convention of the Alberta Division, C.W.N.A., which met in the Macdonald Hotel, Edmonton last week-end.

The publishers discussed rising costs, shortages of materials and help, promotion of advertising, then elected officers and named the first life members. Trophies and prizes in the Better Newspapers and Commercial Printing competitions were presented.

Mr. McCartney, in his address, said that rural publishers have a large investment in buildings, plant and equipment. He said that the editors of weekly newspapers were performing a service as valuable to their community as other professions.

The national officer gave facts on national and local advertising and said that space in a good weekly newspaper was well worth one dollar an inch to the advertiser.

Costs Are Higher

Clive Nesbitt of Brooks, Alberta president, presided over the sessions. Making the annual address he said that the shortages and difficulties of war years were by no means ended.

"Costs of both materials and labor have risen alarmingly, yet charges made by the weeklies for their services were much too reasonable, particularly advertising rates."

Mr. Nesbitt said that as a group, the weekly newspapers had been in the long fight against inflation which was now here, and that the home town publishers would have to demand more for their services to cover higher costs.

Made Life Members

The Alberta Association which some months ago was incorporated, honored three pioneer editors who had rendered special meritorious services through the years, including the early press organizations preceding the present.

Delegates made these Honorary Life Members: Charles Clark Sr., founder of the High River Times, who began publishing there in territorial days and has served as national president; Sam Hodson, veteran publisher of the Okotoks Review, whose illness prevented his presence at the convention; and A. L. Horton who founded the Vegreville Observer in 1906 and whose editorials are widely quoted. Illuminated addresses will be presented to all three.

The convention stood in silent tribute to the memory of W. H. Schierholtz, for some years publisher of the Rocky Mountain House Mountaineer and a past president, who died some weeks ago.

The board met and appointed C. A. Clark of High River, secretary for the sixth year, and provided for a stenographer on a part-time basis. Committees were named to carry on during the year. Time and place of the next convention was left to the executive.

Talk Help Problem

Reporting to the convention, Mr. Clark said that, as instructed by the Lethbridge convention, training of apprentices had been brought into effect under the Alberta Apprenticeship Board and utilizing the facilities of the Graphic Arts School of the D.V.A. at Red Deer Centre.

J. P. White, director of the Apprenticeship Board, was present and explained regulations applicable in the weekly newspaper printing trade.

After discussing the help shortage and the difficulty in securing enough trained printers to permit of adding more apprentices, the meeting approved a request that the regulation fixing the ratio of apprentices to journeymen be suspended temporarily.

Discussion of advertising promotion was led by Clyde Jessup of Nanton. The meeting also heard an address on advertising, entitled "Layouts Build Lineage," by Richard Locke of the Edmonton Bulletin.

Banquets Tendered

The delegates and their wives were tendered a luncheon on Friday by the Edmonton daily newspapers, when J. Dixon Craig, editor of The Journal was chairman, and H. R. Hammond, managing-editor of The Bulletin, co-chairman. At this noon event, Mayor H. D. Ainlay, extended a civic welcome.

Also on Friday they were guests at dinner of the paper supply houses, Barber-Ellis, Clark Bros., Mid-West Paper Sales and Smith, Davidson & Wright. Entertainment included community singing, mirth by a magician and the screening of a film "A River of Paper," which depicted newspaper from the woods to the paper mill and the printing presses.

On Saturday Reg. A. Nalder of the Toronto Type Foundry, Winnipeg, and manager of the Western Newspaper Union, which supplies ready-print to country weeklies out of its Regina plant from which G. H. Slous, managing-editor, was present, was luncheon host. Guests included E. E. Roper, M.L.A., the editor of The People's Weekly; T. B. Windross, the editor of the Spotlight, and Kenneth Burton, associate editor of The Canadian Social Creditor, all published from Edmonton.

Guest Speakers

The speaker was J. H. Brown, provincial department of health, who told of the major health menace that will occur when rats finally invade Alberta which has a large area of prairie harboring bubonic plague-infected gophers. The only rat-free area in North America, the place to halt an invasion of Alberta was just east of the border along the west bank of the South Saskatchewan River, which forms a natural barrier, just as the Rocky Mountains does on the western border of the province, he said. Rats travel on foot and maps he showed, indicated their progress westward.

The Government of Alberta was lost at the final dinner when awards were presented, and Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of economic affairs, was the speaker. Speaking of "Opportunities in Alberta," he said this was a province in which there surely was great need of people and industrial production. Rich in coal in almost unlimited quantity, oil, natural gas, waterpower and minerals, Alberta can become an "industrial giant," said Mr. Hooke.

He said that his government believed in developing these things by private enterprise. "You fellows are always talking about Freedom of the Press. We believe in freedom of enterprise."

Mr. Hooke said that the world has progressed to where it has by individual freedom, but it has arrived at the place where people must choose between the two principles of statism and individualism. The enemies of democracy were fighting it and the people must be alert.

Ladies Are Entertained

Special entertainment was provided for the ladies attending the convention, in the way of a tour of the Great West Garment factory, followed by tea in the cafeteria there on Friday afternoon, and a tour of the city by bus as guests of the City of Edmonton on Saturday afternoon.

A final act of the convention was to pass resolutions of thanks to the luncheon and dinner hosts, the speakers and officers, the Mayor and the City, the Hotel Macdonald management, and to the railways.

Jewish underground round Jerusalem are mobilizing 75,000 fighters to meet the threat of Arab invasion. Britain will withdraw troops within the next few months, but is continuing to supply arms to certain Arab countries according to contract.

I AIN'T DEAD YET

Judge—"Where is your husband?" Defendant—"I ain't got no husband. He's been dead onto ten years."

Judge—"Are these all your children?"

Defendant—"Yes, suh, dey's mine."

Judge—"But I thought you said your husband is dead."

Defendant—"Yes, suh, he's dead, but I ain't."
